Directions: Use this paper to guide students into retelling the story.

The form is a template for a story retelling book. It consists of two vertical columns of pages. Each column has three pages, for a total of six pages. The pages are outlined in blue and have rounded corners. The pages are arranged in a grid-like fashion, with a small gap between the two columns and between the rows. The top row of pages is the largest, and the bottom row is the smallest, suggesting a book that tapers in size. The middle row is of medium size. The pages are currently blank, intended for students to write their retelling of a story.
